Excitement at the Fort.

Special to the Daily Enterprise.

Fort Worth, March 22.—There is excitement here over the vetoing of the ordinance granting track privileges to the Texas and Pacific until the building of the viaducts can be agreed upon. It may curtail proposed railroad improvements here. Citizens generally favor the railway company.

Criminal Appeals Matter.

Special to the Daily Enterprise.

Dallas, March 22.—Senator Barry Miller in an interview today stated that he thought the attempt to remove the courts of criminal appeals from Dallas and Tyler to Austin would be defeated.

The street railway system of Dallas has been sold to Des Moines, Iowa, capitalists.

Took Strychnine.

Special to the Daily Enterprise.

Houston, March 20.—Will Griffin, a young grocery clerk, was to have been married tonight to Miss May Smith. The groom had prepared a home, guests had been invited and presents were pouring in. Last night the plans were frustrated following a quarrel. Griffin swallowed enough strychnine to kill twenty men. He cannot survive.

The Legislative Grist.

Special to the Daily Enterprise.

Austin, March 22.—The house this morning passed finally the senate bill extending the time in which state lands can be redeemed for taxes.

Senate bill to create level premium mutual life insurance companies in the state was referred to a special committee for further action with a view to having a substitute reported. There was much opposition to the bill developed.

The senate bill authorizing interstate lines to lease roads of state lines was passed finally.

The senate killed its bill providing for a system of humane study in public schools.

A number of small local house bills were considered on third reading.

Bryan's Reply to Belmont.

New York, March 21.—Hon W J Bryan has wired the Journal from Stevenson, Alabama, a reply to Mr. Belmont's open letter of last night. He says differences which are great enough to separate people at the polls are great enough to separate them at a political banquet.

The New Charter.

As soon as Mayor Wheat was assured that Beaumont has the requisite 10,000 inhabitants entitling the city to a new charter, he commenced to draft the instrument with the hope that he could complete it in time to get it before the present session of the legislature. This he will do, provided the session lasts until April 10. Otherwise the charter must go over until the next session. A typewriter is now busy on the document and the mayor will spare no effort to get it through at the present session of the legislature.

Reed and Hanna Confer.

New York, March 21.—The Journal's Brunswick, Ga., special says: Reed and Hanna conferred today. Reed remarked to Hanna, "The future is all right," and the latter told the reporter the conference was amicable and satisfactory.

Sherman Not Dead.

Santiago, March 21, 7 p. m.—There is no truth in the statement published in the United States and cabled back here, reporting that John Sherman is dead. It is incomprehensible how this originated. The American line steamer, Paris, Captain Fred Watkins, arrived here this evening before dark and it was immediately reported that Mr Sherman was not only alive, but resting easy and expected to recover. He will be transferred to the United States cruiser Chicago. The cruiser is now coaling at Kingston, Jamaica.

At Galveston.

Washington, March 21.—Captain Farrington West, commissary, U. S. A., now on duty at New Orleans, has been ordered to Galveston to get the First Texas regiment, to be mustered out there, and to arrange subsistence for it. It is understood that the First Texas will arrive at Galveston before the quarantine laws go into effect. The men all wanted to be sent north and be mustered out on account of travel pay, but the department has decreed otherwise from the standpoint of economy.

Gen. Wheeler in New York.

New York, March 21.—General Joseph Wheeler, who is at present in this city, refused today to discuss any further the subject of the battle of Las Quasima.

"I think," he said to a reporter, "the statement which I sent to the war department, and which the department has seen fit to publish, covers the whole ground of the controversy. I am in too delicate a position to say anything further, even if there were anything more to say."

"It was at least due to the officers of my division that the statement should be made, and that those officers should not be allowed to rest under a cloud of misunderstanding."

Can Accommodate All.

Charleston, S. C., March 21.—Charleston will open her homes, as well as her boarding houses and hotels, for comfortable and pleasant accommodation of all the visitors who will attend the Confederate reunion May 10 to 13 next. Rates of board and lodging range from 50 cents to $1 per day at private houses and $2 and upward at hotels. There will be restaurants under the control of the King's Daughters, Daughters of the Confederacy and Revolution and church societies of all denominations will be established. Visitors are urged to make all arrangements for board and lodging in advance and all information engaged by addressing Mr. Robert P. Evans, chairman of the committee on information, Charleston, S. C.

Commerce Commission Lost.

New Orleans, March 21.—The interstate commerce commission has been knocked out by a decision handed down in the United States circuit court of appeals, sitting here this morning, Judge McCormick delivering the opinion. The decree was in the cases of the commission against the Western and Atlantic railway company in one case, and the Clyde Steamship company et al. in two others. In 1891 the commission sought to enforce its regulations respecting freight charges from points north of the Ohio river and seaports north of Charleston to southern points, claiming that the railroads had no right to discriminate against certain points in favor of others which brought a longer haul. The railroad ignored the ruling of the commission and the latter sought an injunction from the United States circuit court for the northern district of Georgia, but lost. The circuit court of appeals this morning upheld the decision of the lower court.

THE CENSUS.

Beaumont Has More Than 10,000 Inhabitants.

The gentlemen engaged in taking a census of the city of Beaumont will complete their work tomorrow, and the result will be extremely gratifying to every citizen of the town, since the 10,000 mark has already been reached and passed. The present estimate of Beaumont's population is from 10,500 to 11,000, one of the census-takers offering to make a wager that there are 11,000 people in the city.

These figures exceed the expectations of even the most sanguine, but the people are here and the census shows it.

This fact will give Beaumont several privileges and advantages which she has not hitherto enjoyed, and the city has good reason to pat herself on the back and fling a few bouquets at herself.

One of the census-takers found twenty-seven people living under one roof, with only two qualified voters in the lot. The number consisted of a man and wife and their children and a married son and a widow daughter with their children.

Moller, Miss Fuller, who is the daughter of Mr. L. A. Fuller, general manager of the Pacific Express company, is one of the best known and most popular young ladies in the South Side. In the parlor the prevailing colors were white and green. Strands of smilax hung from the ceiling and walls, through which were entwined white lilies. In the dining room the colors were red and green. Great bunches of American beauties and ferns adorned the table and side places. Each guest was presented with roses.

Moller, Messrs and Mesdames Beecher, Thompson, Knight and Walker, Misses Jessie and Mary Parker, Mattie Parker, sisters of the bridegroom; Misses Spill, Stella Harris, Helen Day and May Harnett.—St. Louis Republic.
